SECRETARY OF STATE
STATE OF MISSOURI

STATE CAPITOL

JAMES C. KIRKPATRICK
STATE INFORMATION CENTER
(573) 751-4936

Dear Fellow Missourians,

As your Secretary of State, it is my pleasure to publish the 2017 General Assembly Roster. The Roster is a valuable resource to engage in the legislative process. In the following pages, you will find information about Missouri's state and federal elected officials, the roles they serve and how to contact them.

I am honored to serve as Missouri's chief elections officer. Every elected official accepts a responsibility to their constituents, and I believe my responsibility is even greater – to protect the integrity of Missouri's election process and to ensure every vote counts.

This year, the Secretary of State's office will begin implementation of a voter-passed Constitutional amendment that requires Missourians to present photo identification to vote. For voters without photo identification, we will assist them in obtaining the documentation necessary and look forward to improving the integrity of our election process.

I encourage you to participate in your government, contact your representatives and make your voice heard.

Sincerely,

John R. Ashcroft
Secretary of State

Capitol Centennial

This year, the State Capitol is celebrating 100 years of service. In 1917, after less than four years of construction, the Capitol building became the official seat of Government, hosted its first inaugural ball and – later that year – saw its dome illuminated for the first time.

The architectural drawing on the cover was the winning building design by New York architectural firm Tracy and Swartwout and appeared in The American Architect magazine in 1922.
